Brew to Plate

Like all breweries, we use grain to make our beer. But unlike other breweries, we do not simply discard used or "spent" grain. Instead, we deliver our spent grain to local farmers to use as feed for livestock and compost for enrich the soil for vegetables.
We then, in turn, purchase this well-fed livestock and nutrient-rich vegetables to make our steaks, burgers, salads, side dishes and so many other items on our menu. Our goal is not only bring you the freshest, most flavorful food and beer possible, but also to aim as high as we can for true sustainability.
